

Communication Breakdown

How many times
Do we have to repeat ourselves
What happened to days of having fun
Up and down this road we go
You stare into your screen
While sipping your espresso
Deaf to the world

How many times
Do we go back and forth
Only to start all over again
Round and round and round we go
Where we're heading nobody knows
Tell me baby,
Can't you hear my voice
Anymore?

I've reached my limit
And I've had enough
You've tried more than once
To call my bluff
But this time, this time, this time
You can believe me

I feel I'm walking on ice
Slipping all of the time
Never ever seem
To get to the other side
Time has come to take a turn
I guess another lesson's learned
Am I just a fool to try
You tell me

I've reached my limit...

If only we only we could talk
It would be easy
Communication break down
Is what this is
Why can't you hear me?
